

Resolution for Quality Affordable Health Care including Long-Term Coverage for Americans with Alzheimer's Disease

Whereas, Alzheimer's disease is a major driver of health care costs for older Americans; and

Whereas, Alzheimer's disease is the biggest threat for millions of baby boomers; and

Whereas, Americans 55 and older fear Alzheimer's more than any other disease.

Therefore, be it resolved that presidential candidates and caucuses take note that addressing Alzheimer's is the key to success in improving our nation's health care and the economic security of millions; and

Therefore, commit to take action to improve coverage for the uninsured, including long-term care coverage; and

Therefore, commit to make changes to Medicare to improve quality and affordability of care for beneficiaries with Alzheimer's disease; and

Therefore, commit to increase our nation's commitment to solving the problem of Alzheimer's disease before we lose another generation – the boomers – to the disease.
